

De Salis Valentines Project

De Salis students set out on an inspiring Valentine's Business project, where they made and sold various homemade goods, including heartfelt gifts and treats, to raise funds for De Salis. With the generous support of local businesses such as Wicks in Springfield Road, Card Factory in Ealing, and Waterstones in Harrow, who made donations to the initiative, the students were able to create a buzz in their community. These partnerships helped to not only boost the sales of the homemade products but also foster a sense of collaboration between the students and local establishments. The project was a great success, showcasing the creativity, teamwork, and entrepreneurial spirit of De Salis students while also strengthening ties with the local business community. A massive thank you to all of the business that made donations and a big well done to our students and staff at De Salis for pulling off such a fantastic event.
